24 April 2013

Mr. President gave a directive concerning the possibility of summoning a Member who has held ministerial duties in reply to a request made by the Government House Leader. This request was made within the context of the ruling rendered by the President, on 21 November 2012, on the motion moved by the Member for Nelligan for the National Assembly to instruct the Committee on Transportation and the Environment to shed light on the action taken by the Minister of Sustainable Development, Environment, Wildlife and Parks with regard to the BAPE.

DIRECTIVE FROM THE CHAIR

There is no question that a committee given an order of the Assembly to shed light on some matter shall have all the powers required to carry out its mandate for parliamentary control of the Government's activities.

In this regard, section 51 of the Act respecting the National Assembly provides that "the Assembly or a committee may summon and compel the appearance before it of any person, either to answer questions put to him or to produce such papers and things as it may deem necessary for its acts, inquiries or proceedings." There is therefore no limit to a committee's ability to hear persons within the framework of a mandate, including former Ministers.

In practice, however, there have been no recent cases in Québec in which a former Minister was summoned to appear before a committee to testify regarding actions that he may have taken while holding a ministerial office, which is not the case at the House of Commons of Canada where there are recent precedents involving the summoning of former Ministers.

It results from the above that any person may be summoned to appear before a committee, including a former Minister. Nonetheless, when a mandate of parliamentary control is involved, such as is the case here, the committee must adhere to its mandate of control without putting into question the conduct of a Member summoned to appear before it.

Notices of Proceedings in Committees

Mr. Traversy, Deputy Government House Leader, convened the following Committees:

24 April 2013

---

- the Committee on Planning and the Public Domain, to continue its clause-by-clause consideration of Bill 26, An Act to amend the Act respecting elections and referendums in municipalities with respect to financing;
- the Committee on Institutions, to continue its clause-by-clause consideration of Bill 12, An Act to amend the Police Act as concerns independent investigations;

And, by leave of the Assembly and to undertake clause-by-clause consideration before the tabling of the consultation report, he then convened the following Committee:

- the Committee on Public Finance, to hold public hearings within the framework of special consultations on Bill 32, An Act to amend the Act respecting the Pension Plan of Peace Officers in Correctional Services and other legislative provisions; and then to give clause-by-clause consideration to this bill.
