Film, Stage Star Dies Of Burns

CHICAGO — Linda Danelle, 20-year-old stage and television actress who played Saturday ofburnt Friday in her home. Her body was found by firefighters who were called to the burning house when the fire was reported.

Linda Danelle was a student at the University of Illinois and had been planning to go to New York City to continue her acting career.

The cause of death is being investigated by the coroner's office.

Obituaries

Miss Illinois — Ethel German, 60, of Iowa City, was killed in a car crash on Friday afternoon in Iowa City. She was driving her car when she collided with another vehicle.

The family is planning a private funeral service.

Miss America — Alice B. Clark, 75, of Des Moines, died on Friday. She was a former Miss America and served as a judge for the pageant.

The family is planning a private funeral service.

Miss America — Alice B. Clark, 75, of Des Moines, died on Friday. She was a former Miss America and served as a judge for the pageant.

The family is planning a private funeral service.

Miss America — Alice B. Clark, 75, of Des Moines, died on Friday. She was a former Miss America and served as a judge for the pageant.

The family is planning a private funeral service.